

OUR MANDATE

CDAAC's mission is to represent, promote, and support Communicative Disorders Assistants (CDAs) across the country.

CDAAC will represent its members in their relationships with other associations, ministries, colleges, and organizations.

CDAAC will provide its members with ongoing support, clinical education, and assistance with professional issues.

CDAAC will support its members via chapter meetings, conferences, quarterly newsletters, our website, and information line.

CDAAC members will adhere to the Code of Ethics of CDAAC.

CDAAC will promote the CDA profession and provide information regarding membership.

CDAAC will maintain standards of the association by offering membership to students and graduates of CDAAC-recognized programs and by conducting annual reviews of membership criteria.

For information or to become a member call:

416-544-3503

or visit our website

www.cdaac.ca

COMMUNICATIVE DISORDERS
ASSISTANT
ASSOCIATION OF CANADA

We're here to protect your interests.

The Communicative Disorders Assistant Association of Canada (CDAAC) is a national organization for Communicative Disorders Assistants.

CDAAC represents, supports, and promotes CDAs across the country.

CDAAC members participate in chapter meetings, conferences and annual general meetings for support, up-to-date information, and networking opportunities.

To become a member of CDAAC, you must have completed a CDAAC-recognized CDA program and are expected to adhere to the Code of Ethics of the Association.

CDAAC affiliate memberships for educational institutions and the public are also available.

We're here to protect your interests.

COMMUNICATIVE DISORDERS ASSISTANTS

CDAs are uniquely trained to provide services to the community with registered Speech-Language Pathologists and Audiologists, who provide clinical supervision.

CDAs implement intervention programs with a variety of populations according to goals established by Speech-Language Pathologists and Audiologists.

CDAs are trained in a wide variety of areas including augmentative and alternative communication, voice, articulation, phonology, language, fluency, aural rehabilitation and audiology.

CDAs are employed in a variety of settings including school boards, hospitals, treatment centres, long-term care facilities, community health units, private agencies, and audiology clinics.

BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP

PROFESSIONAL SUPPORT

- receive support around professional issues
- join various committees
- adhere to CDAAC's Code of Ethics
- access the resource library

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING AND CONFERENCES

- professional development at spring & fall conferences

MEMBERS-ONLY SECTION OF WEBSITE

- employment listings
- private practice information

CHAPTERS

- form and participate in local chapters across Canada
- funded by CDAAC
- network and discuss issues relevant to your region

NEWSLETTER

- current therapy ideas
- employment listings
- upcoming workshops

MEMBERSHIP DIRECTORY

- access directory of all participating CDAAC members